

Health and Social Science Research Seminar

Jonah Levy, Edward Miguel, and Neil Smelser
Fall 2009

590L University Hall
Tuesdays and Thursdays
10:00am – 12:00pm (unless otherwise noted)
Followed by lunch at 12:00pm on Tuesdays

- August 25 “The Practitioner-Patient Relationship and Its Evolution over Time: Special Focus on Conflicts of Interest”
Neil Smelser, PhD, Professor Emeritus of Sociology
- August 27 “The US System Of Social Protection: Features, Origins, and Possibilities for Change”
Jonah Levy, PhD, Associate Professor of Political Science
- September 1 “What Do We Get for Our Health Expenditures?”
Edward Miguel, PhD, Professor of Economics
- September 3 No Seminar – American Political Science Association Conference
- September 8 “Inequality in the Delivery of Health Services: The Special Case of Race”
Neil Smelser, PhD, Professor Emeritus of Sociology
- September 10 “Markets and Market Failure in Health Care”
Edward Miguel, PhD, Professor of Economics
- September 15 “The Politics Of Health Care Reform: Cost Control and Market Making”
Jonah Levy, PhD, Associate Professor of Political Science
- September 17 “Immigration and Health Policy”
Cybelle Fox, PhD, Assistant Professor of Sociology
- September 28 No Seminar
- September 29 2nd Year Scholar Presentations
10:00am – 1:00pm
- October 2 “Are Restaurants Really Supersizing America?”
Michael Anderson, PhD, Assistant Professor of Agricultural & Resource Economics
- October 8 “Health Care Reform in a Polarized America”
Paul Pierson, PhD, Professor of Political Science