

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
Berkeley/UCSF Scholars in Health Policy Research Program
Philip R. Lee Institute for Health Policy Studies (PRL-IHPS) Seminars

Logistics

October 17, 2011, Room 272

9 am - 3 pm

The UCSF Laurel Heights campus is located at 3333 California St. San Francisco (cross street: Presidio). It is not easily accessible via public transportation from the east bay. In past years, scholars have taken/shared a cab from one of the downtown SF BART stations.

Scholars will need to check in with security when they arrive at Laurel Heights. After they have their badges, to find room 272, proceed up the nearest elevators to the 2nd floor, turn left out of the elevators then right down the long hallway. Room 272 is the last door on the right. If there are any problems, the entrance to IHPS (suite 265) is straight ahead as you're walking down the hallway and someone there will be able to help.

Objectives

To provide scholars with an overview of how health policy research occurs in a applied research environment such as PRL-IHPS.

To highlight similarities and differences in the culture and research enterprise in funded environments as compared to teaching or tenure-based environments.

To expose scholars to specific researchers, programs, and resources at UCSF.
